

Resource Guide

Unions and Contractor Associations

Milwaukee Building and Construction Council AFL-CIO

Website: <http://milwbuildingtrades.org>

Mission: Achieve the goals of justice on the job, highest possible wages and fringe benefits, and quality work for the customer.

Check out “Local Unions”, “Directory of Union Contractors”, and “Apprenticeship” on the website.

South Central Building and Construction Trades Council

Website: <http://btrades.com>

Union Contractors

Check out “Quality Contractors”, “Apprenticeship”, “Affiliates” (Unions), “Statewide Councils” on the website.

Associated General Contractors of Greater Milwaukee (AGC-GM)

Website: <http://agcgm.agc.org>

Union Contractors

Promotes the skill, integrity and responsibility of those who build America

Check out “Membership” for contractors, and “Career Development” on the website.

Allied Construction Employers Association (ACEA)

Website: <http://buildacea.org>

Union Contractors

ACEA helps over 600 companies affiliated through the Industry Advancement Program (IAP). They have helped companies maintain and grow their ability to provide exceptional construction services.

Check out “IAP” on the website

Construction Labor Management Council (Building Advantage)

Website: <http://buildingadvantage.org>

Union Contractors

Fosters excellence in construction and promotes quality building

Check out “Building Advantage Group Members”, and “Careers” on the website.

National Electrical Contractors Association – NECA

Website: <http://neca-milw.org>

Union Contractors

Check out “Membership Directory” and “Resource Links” on the website

Associated Builders and Contractors – Wisconsin Chapter

Website: <http://abcwi.org>

Union and Non Union Contractors

This trade association actively promotes the merit shop form of construction. The merit shop is a force for the economy and efficiency in construction, regardless of organizational affiliation. The merit shop is union and open shop firms working side-by-side.

Check out “Find Contractor” and “Apprenticeship” on the website.

National Association of the Remodeling Industry (NARI)

Website: <http://milwaukeeenari.org>

This organization’s goals are to encourage ethical conduct, sound business practices and professionalism in the remodeling industry. The contractors exhibit high ethical standards for reliable and professional remodeling service.

Check out “Find a Contractor and “Employment Opportunities” on the website.